(54) Title: POSTAL BOX

(57) Abstract: A postal storage box comprises an interior compartment (10) accessible via an aperture, a moveable cover (12) over the aperture, and a lock adapted to retain the cover (12) in a closed position or allow the cover (12) to be opened, a control means (22) able to control the lock state, a memory element adapted to store box state information, and a means for writing box state information to the memory element, wherein the control means (22) control the lock state on the basis of the box state information. The box preferably also includes means for inputting parcel information (16) such as a bar code reader, or the box could communicate (18) with a handheld unit carried by the courier by IR, radio, or other links. The means for writing box state information is preferably controllable remotely, for example via a modem link (24) or via the Internet. It is also preferable for at least part of the box state information to be available over the modem or Internet link (24). Thus, the box controls delivery through any combination of package content, current box contents, courier, box location, box identification, customer identification, delivery company and date.

3. ☐ Claims Nos.:
because they are dependent claims and are not drafted in accordance with the second and third sentences of Rule 6.4(a).

Box II Observations where unity of invention is lacking (Continuation of item 2 of first sheet)

This International Searching Authority found multiple inventions in this international application, as follows:

see additional sheet

1. ☐ As all required additional search fees were timely paid by the applicant, this International Search Report covers all searchable claims.
